Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This Offering Document contains “forward-looking statements” or “forward-looking information” within the meaning of applicable securities legislation (collectively referred to herein as “forward-looking statements” or “forward-looking information”). Often, but not always, forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of words such as “plans”, “will”, “proposes”, “expects”, “estimates”, “intends”, “anticipates” or “believes”, or variations (including negative and grammatical variations) of such words and phrases or state that certain actions, events or results “may”, “could”, “would”, “might” or “will” be taken, occur or be achieved. All statements, other than statements of historical fact, that address activities, events or developments that the Issuer believes, expects or anticipates will or may occur in the future (including, without limitation, statements regarding any objectives and strategies of the Issuer) are forward-looking statements. Examples of such forward-looking statements in this Offering Document include the Issuer’s business plans and strategies; the Issuer’s product, channel and program launches and development; the Issuer’s intention to grow its business and operations; the Issuer’s working capital and anticipated future revenue, costs and expenses; the Issuer’s research and development activities; the completion of the Offering and the timing thereof; obtaining all of the required stock exchange and other approvals in connection with the Offering; use of available funds, including the proceeds of the Offering and the costs of the Offering; business objectives and milestones; and adequacy of financial resources. The material factors and assumptions used to develop the forward-looking statements contained in this Offering Document include, without limitation, the completion and realization of the anticipated benefits of the Offering; the timing for completion, settlement and closing of the Offering; the speculative nature of an investment in the Issuer's securities; the satisfaction of the conditions to closing of the Offering, including receipt in a timely manner of regulatory and other required approvals and clearances, including the approval of the Exchange; the use of proceeds of the Offering; potential adverse effects on the market price of the Issuer's securities resulting from a sale of a substantial amount of the Issuer's securities; price volatility of the Issuer's securities; availability of additional financing as and when required; treatment under governmental regulatory regimes; general business, economic, competitive, political and social uncertainties; product and service development and sales; anticipated and unanticipated costs; the market price and liquidity of the Shares; exposure to increased credit and liquidity risk; third party contractual performance; customer demand; competition from other content providers; competition and the risks posed by potential technological advances; fluctuations in currency exchange rates; dependence on key personnel; conflicts of interest; and difficulty in enforcing judgements and effecting service of process on director and officers.

There can be no assurance that forward-looking statements will prove to be accurate, as actual results, performance or developments could differ materially from those anticipated in such statements. Although the Issuer believes that the assumptions inherent in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and accordingly undue reliance should not be put on such statements due to the inherent uncertainty therein. The factors identified above are not intended to represent a complete list of the factors that could affect the Issuer.

Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the Issuer's actual results, performance or developments to be materially different from any future results, performance or developments expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements, and even if such actual results are realized or substantially realized, there can be no assurance that they will have the expected consequences to, or effects on, the Issuer. Prospective investors should carefully consider all information contained in this Offering Document including information contained in the section entitled "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements", before deciding to purchase the Units. Additionally, purchasers should consider the risk factors set forth below, as well as risks described in the Issuer's Annual Information Form and other public filings that are available on the Issuer's SEDAR+ profile at www.sedarplus.com. Risks which may impact the forward-looking information contained in this Offering Document include but are not limited to, the Issuer's securities may experience price volatility and investors may lose all or part of their investment; the Issuer's growth is subject to many of the risks common to early-stage enterprises, including under-capitalization, cash shortages, limitations with respect to personnel, financial, and other resources, and lack of significant revenues; there is no assurance that the Issuer will be successful in achieving a return on shareholder's investment and the likelihood of success must be considered in light of the early stage of operations; as a manufacturer and service provider in the unmanned aerial vehicle sector, and with aircraft and aviation sector companies under increased scrutiny, claims could be brought against the Issuer if use or misuse of one of its products causes, or merely appears to have caused, personal injury or death; defects in the Issuer's products may lead to other potential life, health and property risks; any claims against the Issuer, regardless of their merit, could severely harm the financial condition of the Issuer and strain management and other resources; the Issuer is unable to predict if it will be able to obtain or maintain product liability insurance for any products that may be approved for marketing; the intellectual property used by the Issuer in its business is not protected by patents or registered design rights, which means that the Issuer cannot preclude or inhibit competitors from entering the same market if they develop the same or similar technology independently; the Issuer is reliant on copyright, trade secret protection and confidentiality and license agreements with its employees, suppliers, consultants and others to protect its intellectual property rights, and although the Issuer has taken steps it believes to be consistent with industry practice to reduce these risks, such steps may be inadequate; if the Issuer fails to register, renew or enforce intellectual property rights, or there is any unauthorized use or significant impairment of its intellectual property rights, the value of its products and services could be diminished, the Issuer's competitive position could be adversely affected and its business may suffer; third parties may independently discover the Issuer's trade secrets or access proprietary information or systems and, in such cases, the Issuer may not be able to rely on any intellectual property rights to prevent the use of such trade secrets, information or systems by such parties; the Issuer's ability to serve its customers in a timely manner depends on the ability of its strategic suppliers and resellers to perform their obligations and deliver their products and/or services in a timely manner and in accordance with contractual requirements; the Issuer relies to a substantial extent on supplier and reseller contracts and agreements and any delay in delivery of parts and materials by original equipment manufacturers ("OEMs") will entail a hindrance in the Issuer's ability to fulfil its contractual obligations; supply of certain products and components is highly concentrated with a small number of suppliers and such suppliers and subcontractors may not be committed or obligated to sell products to the Issuer; delays in supply may significantly hurt the Issuer's ability to fulfill our contractual obligations and may significantly hurt its business and results of operations; the Issuer's products and services are in new and rapidly evolving markets, including the commercial drone market which is in early stages of customer adoption, and as such, the Issuer's business and future prospects may be difficult to evaluate; due to the evolving markets in which the Issuer conducts business, it must rely largely on its own market research to forecast sales, as detailed forecasts are not generally obtainable from other sources at this preliminary stage of the industry; a failure in the demand for its products or services to materialize as a result of competition, technological change or other factors could have a material adverse effect on the businesses, results of operations and financial condition of the Issuer; there can be no assurance that the Issuer's targeted vertical and geographic markets will grow, or that they will be successful in establishing new vertical and geographic markets; an accident involving a drone or UAV provided by the Issuer or another manufacturer could cause regulatory agencies around the world to tighten restrictions on the use of drones and UAVs, particularly overpopulated areas, and could cause the public to lose confidence in the Issuer's products; there are risks associated with unmanned systems and services, flight control, communications and/or other advanced technologies, and there may be accidents associated with these technologies, including crashes with or without personal injury; the Issuer has incurred net losses since its inception; the Issuer cannot assure that it can become profitable or avoid net losses in the future or that there will be any earnings or revenues in any future quarterly or other periods; the regulations of drones and UAVs may not evolve as expected and thus impact the future operations of the Issuer; the Issuer may fail to obtain required regulatory approvals impacting its ability to operate; the Issuer believes that a significant amount of its business opportunities lie outside of Canada, particularly in the United States; many of the third-party products sold by the Issuer and a majority of the components needed to build the products that the Issuer expects to manufacture are made and purchased from countries outside of Canada, particularly in Asia, and operating in foreign countries and relying on suppliers in foreign countries exposes the Issuer to political risks, country risks and currency risks in many forms; there can be no assurance that any market for the Issuer's products will develop; the Issuer may face new or unexpected risks or significantly increase its exposure to one or more existing risk factors, including economic instability, changes in laws and regulations, and the effects of competition, which may limit the Issuer's ability to successfully expand its operations into such jurisdictions, may interfere with its supply chains and may have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's business, financial condition and results of operations; the industry in which the Issuer operates, and in which the Issuer will operate, is very competitive; the Issuer engages in transactions and activities in currencies other than its functional currency and the applicable currency exchange rates may positively or negatively impact the Issuer; forecasting the Issuer's revenues and profitability for new business models is inherently uncertain and volatile; the Issuer could be subject to interest rate risks, which is the risk that the value of a financial instrument might be adversely affected by a change in the interest rates; theft of data for competitive purposes, particularly user and partner lists, is an ongoing risk whether perpetrated via employee collusion or negligence or through deliberate cyber-attack and any such theft or privacy breach could have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's businesses, financial condition or results of operations; the Issuer and its customers are subject to cyber-attacks from cybercriminals and the rapid changes in attack vectors makes it difficult to stop attacks and adapt to new threats and the increased social hacking creates a cyber-threat risk for the Issuer; failure to obtain additional funding could prevent the Issuer from making expenditures that may be required to implement the Issuer's growth strategy and grow or maintain the Issuer's operations; changes in market conditions may increase insurance premiums, which could adversely affect the Issuer's financial conditions, results of operations, cash flow and/or prospects; the loss of one or more key personnel may have a significant adverse effect on the Issuer's sales, operations and profits; the Issuer may become party to litigation from time to time in the ordinary course of business which could adversely affect its business; an extremely high fuel cost could adversely affect customer volumes as other cheaper modes of transportation are sought; and events beyond the control of the Issuer may damage its ability to accept customers' orders, maintain its production and sales or perform its services.

Recent Developments

The most material recent developments in our business are:

On October 21, 2024, the Issuer announced the closing of a $15M financing with Investissement Québec and Economic Development Canada (“EDC”) comprising of a $7.5M secured convertible debenture of the Issuer issued to Investissement Québec (the “IQ Debenture”) and a $7.5M secured term loan (the “EDC Loan”) between EDC and Volatus Aerospace Corp. (“Volatus Corp.”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Issuer. The principal under the IQ Debenture is convertible at the option of Investissement Québec into Common Voting Shares at a conversion price of $0.202 per share (the “Conversion Price”). The Debenture will bear interest at a rate of 12.5% per annum until its maturity date on October 21, 2029 (the “Maturity Date”). The interest portion for the first three-year period will be initially non-cash interest, and capitalized semi-annually, and convertible, at the holder’s option at the then market price of the Common Voting Shares as permissible by securities regulations and the rules of the TSX Venture Exchange, while the interest portion for the last two years will be payable, semi-annually, in cash until the Maturity Date, unless the IQ Debenture is otherwise converted at the Conversion Price, at any time and at the holder’s option before the Maturity Date. The EDC Loan is non-convertible, bears interest at a rate of the prime lending rate set by Royal Bank of Canada plus 8% and has a term of four years with a balloon payment of up to $4.5M at the end of the fourth year on October 21, 2028.

On September 10, 2024, the Issuer announced that it received approval from Transport Canada to conduct drone cargo operations beyond a visual line of sight of the pilot (“BVLOS”) in respect of its DroneCare project.

On September 3, 2024, the Issuer launched Volatus Aerospace Europe AS, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Issuer, in Norway to accelerate its expansion into the European and African markets.

On August 30, 2024, the Issuer completed the merger of equals with Volatus Corp. (the “Merger”), pursuant to which, among other things, the Issuer acquired all of the outstanding common shares of Volatus Corp. by way of a plan of arrangement under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) resulting in Volatus Corp. becoming a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Issuer. On August 30, 2024, in connection with the completion of the Merger, the Issuer changed its name from “Drone Delivery Canada Corp.” to “Volatus Aerospace Inc.” and, on September 5, 2024, the Issuer began trading on the TSX Venture Exchange under its new name. For further information about the Merger, see the Issuer’s news releases dated May 21, 2024, August 12, 2024, August 19, 2024, August 26, 2024 and August 30, 2024 and the joint management information circular of the Issuer and Volatus Corp. dated July 12, 2024, as well as the definitive agreements with respect to the Merger, all of which are filed on the Issuer’s profile on SEDAR+ at www.sedarplus.ca.

The above-noted allocation of capital and anticipated timing represents the Issuer's current intentions based upon its present plans and business condition, which could change in the future as its plans and business conditions evolve. Although the Issuer intends to spend the proceeds from the Offering as set forth above, there may be circumstances where, for sound business reasons, a reallocation of funds may be deemed prudent or necessary and may vary materially from that set forth above, as the amounts actually allocated and spent will depend on a number of factors, including the Issuer's ability to execute on its business plan. The Issuer has had a history of negative cash flow from operating activities and, if necessary, certain of the net proceeds from this Offering may be used to fund such negative cash flow from operating activities in future periods. The Issuer anticipates that it will continue to have negative cash flow from operating activities in future periods. The Issuer cannot guarantee that it will attain or maintain positive cash flow status in the future. See the "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Information" section above.

The most recent unaudited interim financial statements of the Issuer for the three and six months ended June 30, 2024 included a going-concern note. The Issuer has not yet achieved profitable operations, has an accumulated deficit and the Issuer has not yet generated positive cash flows from its operating activities, which may cast doubt on the Issuer's ability to continue as a going concern. The Offering is intended to permit the Issuer to continue to develop its business operations, and is not expected to affect the decision to include a going concern note in the next annual financial statements of the Issuer.
